BLOODHOUNDS TRACE BUT NO ARREST MADE

In the Assassination of Prof. Roach Near Jordan Ky.

Two Men Fired At Him As He Unhitched His Horse and Then Escaped.

CAUSE OF THE DEED UNKNOWN

Fulton, Ky., Oct. 6.—One of the most dastardly crimes ever committed in this part of the country was perpetrated Wednesday night at Jordan, Ky., seven miles north of here, close to the dividing line.

The Baptist Association has been in progress near here several days, and Wednesday night among the attendants were Emmett Roach, and his brother-in-law, Jim Kennedy, who live in the same house. After the services were over the two men and the other members of their families drove home, and while the others went into the house Roach drove to the stable lot, and while taking the horse from the vehicle two white men stepped out from the stable and opened fire on him with revolvers, three shots taking effect, from which Roach died forty minutes later. Before dying he was asked if he was shot by white men, and indicated with his head that he was and held up two fingers to inform them that there were two of them. Bloodhounds were put on the trail at 6 o'clock yesterday morning. Telephone information from Jordan would indicate that if the criminals are arrested and the guilt fixed upon them for certain there will be no need of law. Roach, who was highly respected, leaves a wife and one child. He was a member of the Baptist church and his remains will be interred in Liberty cemetery.

After the shooting his brother-in-law got there in time to see two men run away. Roach fired several shots after he fell.

Detective Hawkins of Milan, tracked with his bloodhounds for several hours the two men who assassinated Roach. The fleeing men mounted a mule and a horse, as proved by the tracks and went towards Fulton, Ky. It is thought that the murderers will be captured.

A number of reports are in circulation, one of which is that Roach was conscious after being shot, and communicated to his family, his suspicions of who shot him.

It is not known who could have desired to kill him, unless it was someone who had a personal grievance. Roach had reproved some children at church a night or two before, but it is not believed likely that this had anything to do with the tragedy. The murder was not committed with a view of robbery, as the murderers would have had no time to rob him, owing to the fact that the shots were heard and the family immediately rushed to his assistance.

District Attorney Jerome to Refer Insurance Scandal to Grand Jury

New York, Oct. 6.—District Attorney Wm. T. Jerome has announced in a statement to Justice Davy in the criminal branch of the supreme court that he intended to present to the extraordinary grand jury the revelations affecting the conduct of the life insurance business which has been made before the legislative investigating committee.

Mr. Jerome said the inquiry by this committee, has shown greater moral obliquity and moral obtuseness on the part of persons important in the business world than did the "shocking revelations" in regard to

CRAZY AT FUNERAL

Mourner Suddenly Becomes Insane and Causes Sensation.

Vincennes, Ind., Oct. 6.—During the funeral services over the body of Mrs. Mary Ann Hamm in St. John's German Catholic church, Ambrose Reinboldt, a mourner, became suddenly insane and, rushing to the altar, demanded that he be allowed to read the mass and conduct the services. He was finally quieted and left the church only to appear at the cemetery where he loudly prayed and sang until taken in charge of by relatives who will have him examined by a lunacy commission. Reinboldt's conduct created a sensation in the church.

TELEPHONE SUIT

TO BE FILED BY SOLICITOR JAS. CAMPBELL, JR., THIS AFTERNOON.

Its Object Is to "Oust" the East Tennessee Telephone Company.

City Solicitor James Campbell, Jr., stated, this afternoon that he would this afternoon file the long-talked-of suit against the East Tennessee Telephone company to "oust" it from Paducah. The city over a year ago filed a similar suit and dismissed it and gave the telephone company a clean bill for all claims. It held against the city to last January, for the payment of $3,600. It also agreed to put up and sell to the company for $500 of this $3,600 a franchise, but it so worded the franchise when it put it up, that the company would not have it.

The suit to be filed today has been expected for sometime, and the East Tennessee company does not appear to fear it. The claim of the city is that the East Tennessee Telephone company has no franchise and has never had one. It is understood the company will admit this and claim it is operating under a perpetual grant from the legislature issued before there were franchises in Kentucky, and that it needs no franchise.

To Popularize Mosquito Theory. New Orleans, Oct. 6.—A plan is on foot to popularize the mosquito theory as the only means of spreading yellow fever infection by having President and members of his party when they visit New Orleans Oct. 26 inspect the emergency hospital in this city.

To visit the emergency hospital, the president will have to travel through several infected streets all within a few squares of the quarters where scores of Italians died of yellow fever before the health authorities knew of the existence of the disease here. It is proposed to have Mr. Roosevelt go through the ward and see the patients. He is believed to be an immune because of his stay in Santiago with the Rough Riders.

OPINION DIFFERS ABOUT PETITION

Some Think the Council Has to Act and Some Do Not.

The Suit Will at Least Hold Up Work Until Spring, Which Will Suit Property Owners.

IT MAY BE COSTLY TO THE CITY.

The experts petition ordered by the board of aldermen to test the validity of the contract with the Southern Bitulithic company, will probably not be ready for several days. There seems to be a difference of opinion relative to whether or not the council has to act on it. Nothing was said at the council meeting Monday night about filing an experts petition, and consequently the council did not act on it.

Mayor Yelken said today that it was his opinion that the council would also have to order the petition filed before the solicitor could proceed.

President G. R. Davis, of the board of aldermen, said that it was his understanding from what Solicitor Campbell said that the action of the board of aldermen was sufficient, but that he didn't know why the council did not have to act on it.

The filing of the petition will not embarrass the contractors, as they will thus get an extension of time through cold weather while the questions involved are threshed out in the courts.

Owing to threats of lawsuits and other things which made the contractors reluctant to bring their machinery and men here and begin work this summer after the contract was let, it was deemed too late to start work this year, and both the property owners and contractors wanted an extension of time, and the property petitioned the legislative boards to order a suspension until spring, but this was refused.

The city half way pretended that it believed the contract invalid, and still refused to stop work under it or to order a suspension. By filing the experts suit it will probably entitle the contractors to a suspension of work until the questions are settled. It is hoped to have everything decided by spring.

A Sun reporter saw Capt. S. A. Fowler, secretary of the board of public works, today and he was asked what he thought of the suit. In his opinion the city is making a mistake, as he does not think a suit the proper thing or at all necessary. If an action is to be filed he suggested that some property owner file it.

Continuing he said: "This suit is likely to get the city into trouble. In the first place it is going to cost to get it through the courts. The city will first have to give bond for any damages that might result and it is very likely that a damage suit will follow in the end. It may take two or three months to try the petition. There is no way for the city to get out of paying for the work already performed.

President E. F. Noble of the board of public works, said it was his opinion that the lower board had to order the suit as well as the upper board for the latter is only a part of the general council, but he said Solicitor James Campbell, Jr., ought to know.

Attorney John K. Hendrick said that if the contractors did not fear the petition went through to the court of appeals, it might not cost the city over $50. But if the contractors appear and ask to be made a party to the petition, it then becomes a two-sided affair and will have to be fought out in the court, and it would be quite costly to the city.

Judge E. W. Bagby, one of the attorneys for the contractors, said this afternoon that he did not know whether the firm would ask to be made a party to the petition or not. He has received no instructions from his clients yet.

WILL BE HARAHAN SUB-DIVISION

Illinois Central to Handsomely Improve its Addition.

Contract Let to Thomas Bridges Son—Uniformity Will Be Observed Throughout.

WILL BE SMALL CITY IN ITSELF.

Mr. C. E. Jennings returned yesterday from Chicago where he went to confer with Illinois Central officials with reference to the sale of the company's plot of ground on West Jefferson street, extending to Clay.

Mr. Jennings carried with him the bids of the local contractors for the improvements to be made, and at the conference it was decided to give the contract to Thomas Bridges' Son, of Wabash, Ind., the contractor who has the contract for the Third street and Jefferson and Kentucky avenue brick street contracts.

There are 28 acres in the plot, about 100 lots, 50x160. It extends from Jefferson to Clay and Fourteenth to Sixteenth streets. Fifteenth street, or Harahan Boulevard, will be graded through the property to Clay street, and paved with the finest white gravel. Concrete walks, 6 feet wide and curbs and gutters will be laid with a fourteen-foot stretch of trees and grass between the street, which will be 80 feet wide, and the walks. Water and gas mains will be laid, and all connections made to the grass plot in order that the street will not be torn up in the future, and also a storm water sewer to drain the property properly.

Purchasers of the property will be restricted to the kind and value of houses to be erected, and all houses will be on a building line. The property has been laid off by the company's engineers and the survey was accepted by the city council on last Monday night.

When improved as planned this property will be the prettiest residence property in Paducah. Final passage was made at the meeting of the aldermanic board last night and work has commenced. The contractor will push the work with all haste as the contract calls for full completion of street, sidewalks and storm sewers within 60 days.

DETECTIVES IN OVERALLS.

They Are Fitting Up a Place for Their New Horse and Buggy.

Detectives Moore and Baker are plain clothes men indeed today. They are wearing overalls.

The two detectives bought a horse and buggy for official duty and asked permission to build a shed back of the city hall for the buggy and a small stable for the horse. The matter was referred by the legislative boards to the police commissioners with power to act, but an examination of the patrol house revealed the fact that there was one extra stall and the detectives were busy this morning fitting out the stall and preparing the place for their horse.

A small shed in the rear of the patrol house will be sufficient to protect the buggy.

Mr. Jones is a baggageman on the Cairo-Paducah division of the Illinois Central railroad. The courtship and wedding is said to have been extremely romantic.

THROUGH CAIRO

WENT A MAIL CARRIER WHO DIED IN CHICAGO.

Of Yellow Fever—Was a Refugee From Natchez, Miss., and Was Trying to Escape the Fever.

Cairo, Ill., Oct. 6.—William Gunning, who rode in the same sleeper with Dr. James Egan from Memphis to Cairo died of yellow fever in Chicago yesterday.

Gunning, who was 21 years of age, was a mail carrier at Jackson, Miss. Eight days ago he joined the refugees and left for Chicago. When Memphis was reached Dr. Egan, of the Illinois board of health, entered the same sleeper to come to Cairo. Gunning became extremely ill on the train and vomited profusely.

When Dr. Egan questioned him he said that something which he had eaten had made him ill. Dr. Egan regarded the case as suspicious and advised the Chicago authorities to look after the man. They failed to do so and Gunning was allowed to go to a hotel when Chicago was reached.

The quarantine officers here learned the next day that Gunning was very ill when the train reached Centralia.

A dispatch from Jackson, Miss. states that Gunning was passed by the inspectors at Cairo.

The Associated Press gives the following account:

Chicago, Oct. 5.—William Gunning, of Natchez, Miss., who came to Chicago a week ago, died today of yellow fever. Gunning broke through the quarantine at Cairo, Ill., and came direct to Chicago. His death is the first in many years that has been caused by yellow fever in this city.

First Tontine Policy Ever Issued Was in 1871 in Paducah on Mr. Tobe Leake

The revelations in the big New York cases have aroused a lively interest in insurance, and many people are becoming familiar with the intricate details of insurance who had never given it a thought before.

It is not generally known that the first "tontine" insurance policy ever issued in the United States was issued right here in Paducah. The policy gets its name from an Italian named Tonti, who with 100 friends formed a pool by depositing $10,000 each, the last one to die to get "the pot."

This set insurance men in the United States to thinking, and the late Henry B. Hyde devised the "tontine" policy from the idea. The first one ever issued in the United States—or in the world, for that matter, was issued in Paducah on the life of the late Tobe Leake, father of Mr. Charles M. Leake. John Roe was local agent for the company that issued it and was the man who had the distinction of writing the first tontine policy ever issued in the world. The date it was issued was January 5, 1871.

"I remember all about it," said Justice R. J. Barber, this morning, "and while the fact that the first policy of this kind ever issued was here in Paducah is well known among insurance men, it is probably not to the general public."

PRESIDENT RAMSEY HAS BEEN CANNED

Removed From Presidency of the Wabash Railroad.

He Protested at the Meeting, Saying It Was Illegal, But They Were Too Strong for Him.

F. A. DELANO SUCCEEDS HIM

New York, Oct. 6.—Joseph Ramsey, Jr., was yesterday removed from the presidency of the Wabash railroad at a special meeting of the board of directors.

F. A. Delano was elected as his successor. Eight directors, including Ramsey were present.

Ramsey has been engaged in a contest with Gould for the control of the road. Ramsey, after the meeting, said his removal was entirely illegal, for the reason the meeting had not been properly called. He made a protest before the board saying the by-laws required five days notice for a special meeting of the board, and that notices for this meeting were mailed only Wednesday night.

His protest was overruled, however.

President Delano took charge of his office at once. "Ramsey and I always have been friends, hitherto, in railroad business," said he, "and I do not want to come into this controversy in any way."

"As to Ramsey's charge about illegality of the meeting, I can say nothing. I am not a lawyer, but there were several good lawyers on the board at the meeting and I presume they would not attempt anything illegal. It was the general understanding that this was an adjourned meeting."

"JUST BUTTED IN."

A Kansas Convict Butts and Kills Guard and Escapes.

Lansing, Kan., Oct. 6.—W. B. Cunningham, a convict serving 10 years in the state penitentiary, escaped late yesterday evening. He is an expert draughtsman and was making the drawing of a building outside the prison walls under guard of Officer Owens. The convict made an unexpected attack on Owens by butting him in the abdomen with his head. Owens died this morning.

Cunningham was captured late last night. He was armed and well supplied with money. His wife has been working as a domestic in Lansing.

Cunningham was sent to the penitentiary from Topeka a year ago for stealing an automobile. His wife assisted him, and the two fled in the touring car to St. Louis, where they boarded a train for Lima, Ohio, the home of the woman's parents. The pair were captured in Lima and brought back. The woman got off with a jail sentence.

STRANGER THAN FICTION.

A Remedy Which Has Revolutionized Treatment of Stomach Troubles.

The remedy is not heralded as a wonderful discovery nor yet a secret patent medicine, neither is it claimed to cure anything except dyspepsia, indigestion and stomach troubles with which nine out of ten suffer.

The remedy is in the form of pleasant tasting tablets or lozenges, containing vegetable and fruit essences, pure aseptic pepsin (government test), golden seal and diastase. The tablets are sold by druggists under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Many interesting experiments to test the digestive power of Stuart's Tablets show that one grain of the active principle contained in them is sufficient to thoroughly digest 3,000 grains of raw meat, eggs and other wholesome food.

Stuart's Tablets do not act upon the bowels like after dinner pills and cheap cathartics, which simply irritate and inflame the intestines without having any effect whatever in digesting food or curing indigestion.

If the stomach can be rested and assisted in the work of digestion it will very soon recover its normal vigor, as no organ is so much abused and overworked as the stomach.

This is the secret, if there is any secret, of the remarkable success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, a remedy practically unknown a few years ago and now the most widely known of any treatment for stomach weakness.

This success has been secured entirely upon its merits as a digestive pure and simple, because there can be no stomach trouble if the food is promptly digested.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets act entirely on the food eaten, digesting it completely, so that it can be assimilated into blood, nerve and tissue. They cure dyspepsia, water brash, sour stomach, gas and bloating after meals, because they furnish the digestive power which weak stomachs lack and unless that lack is supplied it is useless to attempt to cure by the use of "tonics," "pills" and cathartics which have absolutely no digestive power.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can be found at all drug stores and the regular use of one or two of them after meals will demonstrate their merit better than any other argument.

Theatrical Notes

Friday night, . . . "The Royal Chef."
Saturday, matinee and night, . . .
"Fazio Romani."

Celebrated pictures are often used for models by scene painters who desire particularly striking effects in the setting they produce. Nearly every theatrical artist has his study well stocked with photographs of familiar masterpieces, and often of actual localities. In fact, a firm of New York artists but recently received a commission from the government to visit the Grand Canyon of Arizona in order that they might be able to depict faithfully and truthfully this great and wonderful scene of nature. The artists who built the second act of "The Royal Chef," which is to be seen at The Kentucky used a very famous painting for their model. When the curtain goes up at The Kentucky tonight, those in front will see an exact reproduction of that famous old picture "The Spirit of '76."

"Saturday night Bowling Green was treated to a real comic opera, by the ever popular Herald Square Opera company. "Said Pasha" was the bill and although the opera is an old one, the company presents it in a manner that makes it old in name only. It has been rebuilt and remodeled for "laughing purposes, just for fun," and it is entirely enjoyable and pleasing. There was a very fine crowd, which took up the spirit of the show from the rise of the curtain on the first act. The music was pretty and catchy and Miss Leona Watson, the prima donna, made a decided hit with her solo "Cupid and I." As was chronicled, Miss Watson appeared at the end of the first act before the new curtain, which was lowered for the first time and made some very witty and appreciative remarks, receiving great applause. The two comedians kept the house in an uproar of laughter and two individuals could not be made up in more ludicrous costumes. Every one enjoyed the show and had a good time and Bowling Green will welcome the news that a return date is now being arranged." From the Bowling Green, Ky., Times. The same bill, "Said Pasha," will be presented by the company at The Kentucky on Monday evening, Oct. 9th, "The Mascot" Tuesday, matinee and "Fra Diavolo," Tuesday night.

The advance the medical profession has made in the past century and is still making, is little short of supernatural. Mesbuth said: "Time was that when brains were cut out the man would die, and there an end." Nowadays the doctors scoop them up and replace them, patch up the patient's head and turn him out if not as good as new, at least a very good substitute or a passable second-hand article. An episode of the plague is worked out in Marie Corelli's great tragic melodrama, "Fazio Romani," which will be presented at The Kentucky tomorrow, matinee and night. The original New York company with all the elaborate scenery, costumes and accessories that contributed to the long run of the play in the metropolis, will be seen here.

Grace Van Studdiford, the bright star of Messrs. Shubert's Lady Teazle" opera company which is to be at The Kentucky this season, travels in her own private Pullman car, cared for, by an English chef, a Japanese butler, two African porters and two Irish maids.

A GOOD YEAR

IS SHOWN BY THE I. C. REPORT FOR THE YEAR.

The Company Has Prospered and is Growing Rapidly.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—The annual report of the Illinois Central Railroad company for the year ended June 30, 1905, was given out today. The average number of miles operated during the year was 4,373.

The gross receipts from traffic were $49,508,649; expenses of operation, $33,084,257; taxes, $2,027,448 ($35,111,706) making the income from traffic $14,396,943, added to which net receipts from sale of land $2,487, and income from investments and miscellaneous $2,759,019, gives excess of income over expenses of operation and taxes $17,158,451. Deducting from this $3,938,470 interest on funded debt and St. Louis division prior lien bonds, and $3,084,639 ($7,023,109) rent of subsidiary railroads, including interest on bonds, makes the net income $10,135,341. Adding $1,225,766 surplus dividend fund gives the amount available $11,361,108. The dividends paid amounted to $6,652,800. There was set aside for betterments $1,683,886.

The following increases are mentioned in the report: Gross receipts from traffic, $2,677,514; expenses of operation, $291,066; taxes, $85,017; income from traffic, $2,301,490; excess of income over expenses of operation and taxes, $2,346,448; fixed charges, $1,077,033; net income, $1,269,414.

The company now has 667 miles of double track and 72 miles of third track.

OFFICIALS HERE ON REGULAR TOUR

They Left Today After Inspecting Local Property.

Another Change in the Working Hours at the Shops, But It is a Slight One.

SOME OTHER RAILROAD NOTES.

Yesterday Paducah entertained a number of prominent I. C. officials who came here on an inspection of the division and local terminals.

Mr. Harry McCourt, superintendent of Southern lines of the I. C., Supt. A. H. Egan, of the Louisville division, and Henry Scheuing, of the Evansville district, with Roadmasters F. L. Thompson, Louisville division; Downs, Evansville district, and Trainmaster James of the Louisville district, composed the party. They arrived in the afternoon and made a thorough inspection of the division en route down.

The party was met here by Mr. McCourt who proceeded east to Louisville this morning in his private car No. 19. Mr. Egan has been ill and this was the first trip of inspection made to Paducah since he recovered.

Mr. H. L. Moore, night ticket agent for the local I. C., is ill and off duty. Yesterday he was forced to go to the hospital and Mr. Tom Glenn, day operator in the south yard office, worked for him last night as operator. Mr. Glenn is doubling up, working day and night. If Mr. Moore continues ill, a regular substitute will be secured for him.

Mr. W. A. Carter, coach inspector for the local I. C., is ill and unable to be on duty. Mr. Frank Budde is acting in his place.

A. V. Keys of this city, a flagman employed on the Louisville division of the I. C. was injured at Gravel Switch yesterday afternoon, and brought to Paducah and placed in the I. C. hospital for treatment. Keys was working on a gravel train and lost his balance while running on top of a car. He fell to the ground and his left side was badly bruised, but fortunately no bones were broken. The accident will disable him for sometime however.

Mr. G. M. Stonebreaker, general yardmaster for the local I. C., is a sportsman through and through and is enjoying his first touch of real sport of his liking this week since he came to Kentucky.

Mr. Stonebreaker is a horse racer and owns several very fine pieces of horse flesh. He is at present attending the Mayfield fair and is entering his stock in nearly all events of importance. Mr. Stonebreaker also intends to "come out" in the horse show here and says he feels confident he will carry away a few of the honors. He has been a turfman all his life and had not had the opportunity to run or drive his horses since he came to this state from Illinois. South Yardmaster Miller is acting in Mr. Stonebreaker's place.

An order has been posted on the bulletin boards in the local I. C. car and woodworking department cutting the working day down half an hour.

The mill and car shops have been working ten hours a day but on account of the shortening of the day the hours were cut. From now on the department will work from 7 to 12 and from 1 to 5:30 o'clock. Since Monday the department has been working until 12:30 at noon in order to fill in the full ten hours before darkness came.

Eugene No. 1196, which broke her driving rods at Rockport, was brought to the city this morning. The cab was torn off but it will require a short time only to repair the damage done.

Mr. Frank Duggan, of the local I. C. master mechanic's office, went to Carbondale at noon on business.

Is Now in East St. Louis Organizing a Club to Be in the Kitty Next Year.

Although the baseball season is hardly over, Secretary Farnbaker is out working on the Kitty League for next season, judging from the following from yesterday's St. Louis Globe Democrat:

"M. J. Farnbaker, of Cairo, was arranging to organize a baseball team in East St. Louis yesterday, in order that East St. Louis could be a member of the 'Kitty' baseball league. It is the intention to have Cairo, Paducah, Vincennes, Evansville, Terre Haute, Danville, Jackson and East St. Louis comprise the league."

It is supposed that Secretary Farnbaker will visit the other cities in order, and when the time comes be in a position to make a definite report on the prospects for the Kitty League for next season.

The Clothes of Gentility

The habit of a gentleman is based on quality and refinement of taste. Naturally it is more expensive to make clothes of this high character than the machine-made kind ordinarily thrust upon you in the average clothing store. This is explanation enough of the fact that Atterbury Clothes are higher priced than most others. Character in clothes never comes from machines. Hand tailoring alone can create it, and all Atterbury garments are hand-tailored throughout.

MESSRS. HAYS, LEVI & CO., of New York, makers of the "Atterbury System of Men's Clothing, stand today pre-eminent in the clothing world, acknowledged as the custom tailors who revolutionized the making of high grade clothing.

In all the large cities, in the best clothes shops, their garments are shown and worn by men of discriminating taste. In Paducah they have appointed us sole distributors because we are known as the largest sellers of high grade clothing.

In connection with the Atterbury System Clothing, we want to state to our friends and customers that it is all we claim for it, and more. In the construction only the most skilled tailors are employed who can impart that individuality, that character and drape wherein one artist excels another.

You cannot detect the difference between the "Atterbury System" Clothing and that produced by the best merchant tailors, because it not only possesses all the points that characterize fashionable garments, but taste has been displayed in the selection of the fabrics. They reflect "quiet elegance," and in the cutting, lines have been followed that insure a perfect fit.

Encouraged by the securement of this elegant clothing, and always on the alert for new and better devices for the preserving and handling of fine clothes, we personally inspected the products of the greatest shop-fitters of America at length and decided upon the Twentieth Century Clothing Cabinets and have had them installed in our complete store. ## Daily Thought.

"Conduct is the translation of character into tangible form."

CAPT. FARLEY FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

Capt. Ed Farley, the Republican nominee for representative to the general assembly, is a man of whom the county could and would be proud. He is a gentleman of intelligence, tact, good judgment and integrity, and would add dignity to any body of which he might be a member. It is known pretty well where he stands on all questions—or if anyone does not know, he can find out by the mere asking—and as Capt. Farley is as loyal a Kentuckian as can be found anywhere, it is certain that he would do nothing not to the interest of the state and his people.

Capt. Farley is a Republican—and proud of it—but political principles cut little figure in state affairs, and if the Democrats have the majority in the legislature that they claim, it would do no harm to have a Republican here and there by way of variety.

We do not advocate the election of Capt. Farley solely because he is a Republican, but because he is a good, safe man, and can be counted on to faithfully discharge all duties and obligations.

Captain Farley's experience in the legislative bodies of the city is well known and exceptionally creditable. His long residence as a citizen and the fact he is largely interested in the county and city should favorably appeal to all citizens.

This county has a brainy young man in the senate, Hon. J. Wheeler Campbell, a Democrat—and Republicans as well as Democrats have been proud of him. We invite the people in general, regardless of their politics, to consider Capt. Farley's candidacy, not from a political standpoint, but from one of propriety and pride, and decide if they do not think he would make McCracken county a creditable representative.

VOTE AGAINST THE AMENDMENT.

The voters of Kentucky should not lose sight of the vote in November on the constitutional amendment to return to the viva voce system of voting. Every man in Kentucky who wants and expects to vote his sentiments and choice hereafter without being dominated and perhaps persecuted and harassed by cheap John politicians, should and must vote against the amendment. The Democrats are trying to delude people with arguments that the viva voce system will prevent fraud, when the Democrats are the ones who inaugurated fraud in Kentucky elections, and who commit a large per cent of that committed in the state. The real and only reason the Democrats want the viva voce system—as more than one has been heard to express it—is "So we can see how a man votes." The Democrats have an idea that members of the party have been remiss in their loyalty to corrupt machine methods, and they reason it out that to force a man to go up and vote so everyone may see how he voted, will force him to stay in line. Those voters in Kentucky who desire a free and untrammelled ballot, however, and who for various reasons are frequently so situated that they do not desire and cannot afford to let it be known how they vote, must rally to the support of those who are fighting this proposed constitutional amendment. It is not a political question at all. It is merely an effort of the Democratic politicians to tighten their hold on the throats of the people.

How do the people of Paducah like this way of doing business? For several weeks the old telephone company has been laying a conduit in the alley in the rear of its plant, so as to get its wires under ground. It had a written permit, as required by law, from the city engineer and board of works, to make the excavations and for days had men at work tearing up the alley in full view of the mayor and other city hall officials. Nothing was said until after the pipes were laid and the holes covered up, and now the legislative boards meet and order the work stopped! Do they ever do anything at the right time?

TO TAKE DEPOSITIONS.

In the Interstate Insurance Case at Louisville, Ky.

Commonwealth's Attorney John G. Lovett left at noon for Louisville to be present at the taking of depositions by the defendant in the re-bating cases filed in the McCracken circuit court against the Interstate Life Insurance company, of Indianapolis. Mr. Lovett will cross question the witness. There is but one disposition to be taken and that is of the state agent.

One similar case has been tried at Benton but Judge Reed has not rendered his decision, although it is said he will decide for the insurance company. Mr. Lovett said that the Benton case will not affect the local cases as the one to be tried here will be a test case for the whole state and he believes that the commonwealth will win. It will be a hard fight and some prominent lawyers from Indianapolis and Louisville will take part for the company.

Working On Sidewalk Plans.

City Engineer Washington is working on plans for the pavements on Jefferson between Fourteenth and Twenty-fifth streets but they will not be done for some time. This improvement has been ordered by the board and the plans when completed will be submitted to the board of public works for approval and for advertising the job.

HOT ARGUMENT IN K. OF P. GRAND LODGE

Over the Sealing of the Lexington Property at Once.

The Motion Finally Prevailed by a Big Majority—Rathbone Sisters Elect.

LOUISVILLE TO GET MEETING.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Oct. 6.—The debate over the sale of the Lexington property of the Knights of Pythias was one of the longest and most earnest in the history of the order. After lively session lasting for several hours in which the floodgates of oratory were torn loose and streams of speeches poured forth, the grand lodge decided to sell the Fayette county property which had been purchased as a home for indigent widows and orphans of deceased knights.

The discussion of the matter required all of Wednesday afternoon and when tired representatives sought an adjournment at 5 o'clock, the motion was defeated and it was dark before the Pythians went to their lodges. At night the discussion was renewed, the house sitting as a committee of the whole. Shortly before 11 o'clock by a vote of 112 to 97 the committee recommended the sale of the property. The grand lodge then by a vote of 123 to 96 decided to sell the Richardson Gibson property and reinvest the proceeds.

Yesterday the transaction of routine business consumed all of the time. It was decided to fix the minimum initiation fee at $10. Hereafter it has been $15, though special dispensations for the entrance of classes at $10 for each member had been granted.

Louisville, Lexington and Peattysville are making efforts to secure the next grand lodge meeting. The committee to which this matter was referred will probably report in favor of Louisville.

Tom Stuart, the popular new grand chancellor of Kentucky is a former newspaper man.

The grand temple of Rathbone Sisters of Kentucky held their annual election of officers as follows:

Ellen L. Moffitt—Grand Chief, Damon No. 4, Louisville.

Susie Andrus—Grand Senior, Calanthe, No. 7, Dayton.

Eva Herndon—Grand Junior, Myrtle, No. 8, California.

Inez Tandy—Grand Manager, Naomi, No. 9, Sanders.

Mattie E. Gies—G. M. of R. and C. Damon, No. 4, Louisville.

Emma G. Pearson—G. M. of F. Calanthe, No. 7, Newport.

Matilda Webb—G. O. Guard, Ruth Temple, No. 11, Ludlow.

Anna E. Raison—Supt. Rep. 4 yrs. Esther, No. 6, Newport.

Trustees—E. Belle Williams—3 yrs. Naomi, No. 9, Sanders.

Mary Volk—2 yrs. Calanthe, No. 7, Dayton.

Harvie Bradford—1 yr., Cumberland Valley, No. 3, Grays.

The presence of the Rathbone Sisters has been one of the most attractive features of the meeting of the Knights.

Sue the Railroad Company.

Attorneys Hendrick, Miller and Marble have filed suit in circuit court here against the Illinois Central railroad for $1,000, which they allege they would have earned had they secured a verdict in circuit court for $2,000, the full amount sued for, in the case of Randolph Seavey against the Illinois Central. Seavey is a fireman who was injured at Mounds, Ill., and it is alleged made a contract with Hendrick, Miller and Marble to bring suit against the road for damages, agreeing to pay them fifty per cent of whatever he got, and not to compromise except through them. It is claimed that he compromised with the railroad after the suit was filed, without informing his attorneys, and the latter allege the railroad attorneys knew of the contract their client had with them.

Recovered the Money.

A pocketbook containing $168.32 was recovered by Detectives Moore and Baker yesterday afternoon for Mrs. Tom Dearmon, of 1133 North 14th street, wife of a section foreman on the I. C. Mrs. Dearmon had the purse when she went to the grocery nearby, and soon after returning home a negro boy followed her and asked if she had any milk to sell. She said that she did not and paid no particular attention to the boy, who is only ten years old. A short time afterwards she missed her purse and money. The detectives went to the boy's house and notified his father and the father succeeded in recovering the money and returning it. On account of the boy's age he was not arrested.

Just a Few of Our Many Good Things

If you have called, you are already familiar with the sterling values which have attracted Paducah housewives to our store in such large numbers during the GREAT CLOSING OUT-AT-COST SALE. But we are by no means sold out. Just to show you what values we are offering in American made china come in and see the handsomely decorated 35c salad bowl you can get for 18c. We have lots of these now, as our entire stock of them has been transferred from the wholesale to the retail department. But they won't last long at these prices. So come in early. Some cake plates in the same class which have always sold for 50c, now 33c.

We were unable to cancel the orders for many of the rare and beautiful pieces of hand painted French, Japanese and Austrian china (in sets and open stock, too,) which were especially imported for the benefit of discriminating buyers at Christmas time. As there are no exceptions to our sell-at-cost rule, you have an opportunity to buy for absolutely what we paid the manufacturer. And they are exclusive patterns, too. If you buy a set no one in Paducah or anywhere else will have one just like it. That's always a pleasant feeling to the woman who loves beautiful china. And remember that it's not "too expensive to use." Come in and see it, if only for the pleasure it will give you.

HANDSOME LAUNCH.

The Annie Belle Here En Route From St. Louis to Rochester, Kentucky.

One of the handsomest gasoline launches ever seen at the local wharf arrived last night from St. Louis en route to Rochester, Ky. She will be repaired here and leave tomorrow. Her name is Annie Belle.

The craft was built for Russell Gardner, but for some reason he did not take her. She cost $11,000 when completed. Inside she is finished like a Pullman palace car and is equipped for electric lights, but no dynamo has ever been installed. Her hull is white cedar and the power is furnished by a fifty-horse power gasoline engine. Her speed is thirteen miles an hour. She can carry 40 or 50 people, being arranged for passengers on top as well as inside. The whistle is blown by compressed air. Harvey Meyers, Capt. T. K. Bowles, A. J. Wilson and Ike C. Adair, all of Rochester, are her owners and they will put the boat in a passenger trade out of Green River. Just where they will run to has not been decided. They left St. Louis Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

THE CITY TO FILE AN EX-PARTE PETITION

To Find Out Whether or Not Solicitor Knows the Law.

This Act Decided On at Board of Aldermen Meeting Held Last Night.

OTHER BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS.

The aldermanic board met in regular session last night with all members present.

Col. Ben Welle, acting for the Horse Show promoters, invited the board to attend the horse show, and asked the board to grant the privileges to the horse show usually given carnival companies. The privileges were granted.

Mayor Yeiser presented notes from Col. Jno. Sinnott for two lots purchased from the city. The notes were ordered turned over to the city auditor.

The board ordered the contract, amounting to about $40, for painting the dials on the city hall and Baptist church clocks, concurred in.

The board received a report from the board of public works saying the city power house was taxed to its capacity, and that no more street lights be added.

The matter of putting an iron railing on the sidewalk at Second and Kentucky avenue was referred to the board of works with power to act.

The labor unions were granted the privileges usually given carnivals.

A communication was read from the board of public works recommending a suspension of work on Jefferson street and Kentucky avenue until the validity of the ordinance under which the contract was let, is settled. The communication was received and filed. Mayor Yeiser stated the city solicitor suggested that an ex parte petition be filed in circuit court to settle the validity of the contract, and thereby saving litigation and unnecessary expenditure of money in court costs and attorney's fees.

Alderman Farley thought, inasmuch as the city solicitor had declared the contract invalid, the board should abide his decision, and if there was any fighting to be done, to let the "other fellow" do the fighting.

Solicitor Campbell stated that the contractor's attorneys and he, differed which would eventually mean litigation and that this would be the cheapest and easiest way out of the matter.

The motion to file the suit was adopted, Aldermen Farley and Starks voting nay.

A resolution to extend Caldwell street around the box factory was adopted. This includes a small fill leading from the present terminus of Caldwell street.

A report was read from the water company saying that it would reduce rates in proportion to rent paid in other cities. The report was received and filed.

Mayor Yeiser stated that no record can be found where the East Tennessee Telephone Co. was given the privilege, and met with the requirements of law, in regard to putting down conduits on Kentucky avenue, and recommended that a notice be served on the company that it was encroaching on the rights of the city, and to instruct the board of works to stop the work.

City Engineer Washington stated that the board of works gave the company permission to do the work, and that the contract in which the company agrees to fill up the ditches, etc., has been drawn and is now in Nashville for signature.

Mayor Yeiser held that the board of works had no right, that the general council should have been consulted and should have ordered the work done and authorized the contract.

The motion to notify the telephone company that it is encroaching on the city rights, and to stop the work at once, and to desist from any further such work unless permission be granted by the general council; also that the street be put back into its former condition before excavations were begun, was adopted.

The board ordered the matter of creating a new sewer district in the West End, referred to the board of public works and city engineer to report back to the general council. This will take in the High school building on West Broadway.

Attorney Ed. Puryear read the dedication of streets in plat in the rear of the I. C. hospital. The dedication of the streets was received. The city is to bear no expense of the construction of the street except at intersection of city streets.

Authority was given the owners of the railroad ground to lay storm water sewers under the supervision of the city engineer on Harahan Boulevard.

The report of the finance committee showing salaries, running expenses, etc., amounting to a total of $17,804.72 was received and filed.

A bill of the Southern Bitulithic Co. amounting to $988 for street work was referred back.

The auditor's report showing a balance of $110,996.43 in the treasury at the end of September was received and filed.

The following ordinances were acted on.

Ordinance for the grading and graveling of Sowell street, second reading.

Ordinance providing for the sale of 20-year ferrage franchise for operating a boat between Paducah, Brookport and the Illinois shore. This is practically a renewal of the franchise held by Owen Brothers. First reading.

A petition for the extension of water mains on Jefferson street in the West End and also on West Clay street was referred to the water company. The water company reported the extension of water mains in Mechanicsburg.

The reports of Chief of Police Jas. Collins, Electrical Inspector W. J. Gilsdorf and Fire Chief Jas. Wood, were received and filed.

A coffee house license was granted W. H. Orr, at 1027 Broadway.

Jas. Clark offered to furnish a garbage dump boat and tend to the dumping of all garbage for $40 per month for April, and intervening months, to December, and for $25 monthly for the other months. The contract was presented and referred to the joint sanitary committee.

Several deeds and transfers of lots in Oak Grove cemetery were ratified.

Detectives Moore and Baker wanted the city to feed and stable a horse and buggy they bought for official duty. Referred to police board.

The request of the commercial club for the city to appropriate $500 towards the silver service for the gunboat Paducah was referred to a committee to report back to the boards.

The matter of having concrete corners at the intersection of streets on the Third street improvement was referred to the city engineer and solicitor.

Six feet of ground was donated by Mr. Gehlschlaeger on Broad street to widen the street.

The street inspector was ordered to repair a culvert at Twelfth and Burnett streets.

The matter of securing a file cabinet for the city clerk's office was referred.

Mr. Sam Goodman wants to put in steam heat in property on Second street between Broadway and Jefferson street. The board gave him this permission. The street will have to be torn up in order to do this, but Mr. Goodman will have to put the street back in good condition under supervision of the city engineer.

The question of sidewalks on South Third, about which there seems to be some confusion as to material and to individuals awarding their own contracts, was brought up by Alderman Bell and referred.

MUCH DUST

And Many on South Third Street Are Complaining Of It.

The dust on South Third street is becoming so bad that complaints are heard from all quarters. Much of the dust is from dirt that was hauled over the street and fell off the wagons, drying and being ground up into dust. When a car passes along the street a huge cloud of dust rises and floats into scores of residences and business houses, and so bad has it become that the stocks in a number of stores is being daily damaged. It is understood that the city will be asked to do something to abate the dust.

Frightful Suffering Relieved
Suffering frightfully from the virulent poisons of undigested food, C. G. Grayson, of Lula, Miss., took Dr. King's New Life Pills, "with the result," he writes, "that I was cured." All stomach and bowel disorders give way to their tonic, laxative properties. 25c at W. B. McPherson's drug store.

Raffles, The Amateur Cracksman

By E. W. MORNING

NINE POINTS of THE LAW

No. 5 of the Series

"The deuce he has!" said Raffles. I figured out he had bought it.

"A Queenslander legislator of the name of Craggs—the Hon. John Montagu Craggs, M. L. C., to give him his full title. Not that we knew anything about him on Tuesday last; we didn't even know for certain that young Debenham had stolen the picture, but he had gone down for money on the Monday evening, had been refused and it was plain enough that he had helped himself in this way. He had threatened revenge, and this was it. Indeed, when I hunted him up in town on the Tuesday night he confessed as much in the most brazen manner imaginable. But he wouldn't tell me who was the purchaser, and finding out took the rest of the week; but I did find out, and a nice time I've had of it ever since—backward and forward between Raffles and the Metropole, where the Queenslander is staying, sometimes twice a day; threats, offers, prayers, entreaties—not one of them a bit of good!"

"But," said Raffles, "surely it's a clear case? The sale was illegal; you can pay him back his money and force him to give the picture up."

"Exactly, but not without an action and a public scandal, and that my client declines to face. He would rather lose even his picture than have the whole thing get into the papers. He has discovered his son, but he will not disagree him; yet his picture he must have by hook or crook, and there's the rub. I am to get it back by fair means or foul. He gives me carte blanche in the matter, and I verily believe would throw in a blank check if asked. He offered one to the Queenslander, but Craggs simply tore it in two. The one old boy is as much a character as the other, and between the two of them I'm at my wit's end."

"So you put that advertisement in the paper?" said Raffles in the dry tones he had adopted throughout the interview.

"As a last resort, I did."

"And you wish us to keep this picture?"

"It was magnificently said; the lawyer flushed from his hair to his collar. 'I knew you were not the men,' he growled. 'I never thought of men of your stamp! But it's not stealing,' he exclaimed heatedly; 'it's recovering stolen property. Besides, Sir Bernard will pay him his £5,000 as soon as he has the picture, and, you'll see, old Craggs will be just as loath to let it come out as Sir Bernard himself. No, now—it's an enterprise, an adventure, if you like—but not stealing.'"

"You yourself mentioned the law," murmured Raffles.

"And the risk," I added.

"We pay for that," he said once more.

"But not enough," said Raffles, shaking his head. "My good sir, consider what it means to us. You spoke of those clubs. We should not only get kicked out of them, but put in prison like common burglars! It's true we're hard up, but it simply isn't worth it at the price. Double your stakes, and I for one am your man."

Addenbrooke wavered.

"Do you think you could bring it off?"

"We could try."

"But you have no?"

"Experience? Well, hardly!"

"And you would really run the risk for £4,000?"

Raffles looked at me. I nodded.

"We would," said he, "and blow the odds!"

"It's more than I can ask my client to pay," said Addenbrooke, growing firm.

"Then it's more than you can expect us to risk."

"You are in earnest?"

"God wot!"

"Say £3,000 if you succeed!"

"Four is our figure, Mr. Addenbrooke."

"Then I think it should be nothing if you fail."

"Doubles or quits?" cried Raffles. "Well, that's sporting. Done!"

Addenbrooke opened his lips, half rose, then sat back in his chair and looked long and shrewdly at Raffles—never once at me.

"I know your bowling," said he reflectively. "I go up to Lord's whenever I want an hour's real rest, and I've seen you bowl again and again—yes, and take the best wickets in England on a plumb pitch. I don't forget the last Gentleman and Players. I was there. You're up to every trick—every one. I'm inclined to think that if anybody could bowl out this old Australian—damme, I believe you're my very man!"

The bargain was clinched at the Cafe Royal, where Bennett Addenbrooke insisted on playing host at an extravagant luncheon. I remember that he took his whack of champagne with the nervous freedom of a man at high pressure and have no doubt I kept him in countenance by an equal indulgence, but Raffles, even an exemplar in such matters, was more astute than even his own wit and very poor company to boot. I can see him now, his eyes in his plate—thinking, thinking. I can see the solicitor glance ing from him to me in an apprehension of which I did my best to disabuse him by reassuring looks. At the close Raffles apologized for his preoccupation, called for an A. B. C. time table and announced his intention of catching the 4.32 for Esker.

"You must excuse me, Mr. Addenbrooke, but I have my own idea, and for the moment I should much prefer to keep it to myself. It may end in a fizzle, so I would rather not speak about it to either of you just yet. By speak to Sir Bernard I must, so will you write me one line to him on your card? Of course, if you wish, you must come down with me and meet what I say, but I really don't see much point in it."

"And, as usual, Raffles had his way though Bennett Addenbrooke showed some temper when he was gone, and I myself shared his annoyance to no small extent. I could only tell him that it was in the nature of Raffles to be self-willed and secretive, but that no man of my acquaintance had had his audacity and determination; that I for my part, would trust him through, and through and let him gang his own goat every time. More I dared not say even to remove those chill misgivings with which I knew that the lawyer went his way."

That day I saw no more of Raffles, but a telegram reached me when I was dressing for dinner:

Be in your rooms tomorrow from noon and keep rest of day clear. RAFFLES.

It had been sent off from Waterloo at 6.42.

So Raffles was back in town. At an earlier stage of our relations I should have hunted him up then and there, but now I knew better. His telegram meant that he had no desire for my society that night or the following forenoon; that when he wanted me I should see him soon enough.

And see him I did toward 1 o'clock next day. I was watching for him from my window in Mount Street when he drove up furiously in a hansom and jumped out without a word to the man I met him next minute at the lift gates and he fairly pushed me back into my rooms.

"Five minutes, Bunny!" he cried. "Not a moment more."

And he tore off his coat before flinging himself into the nearest chair.

Last Hope Vanished.

When leading physicians said that W. M. Smithart, of Pekin, Ill., had incurable consumption, his last hope vanished; but Dr. King's New Discovery kept him out of his grave. He says: "This great specific completely cured me, and saved my life. Since then, I have used it for over 10 years, and consider it a marvelous hroat and lung cure. 'Strictly scientific cure for Coughs, Sore Throats or Colds; sure preventive of Pneumonia. Guaranteed, 50c and $1.00 bottles at W. B. McPherson's drug store."

Life a Burden

There are times when life seems a burden—when you are tired, worn-out, have dull pains in the head and a continual feeling of uneasiness. You have no appetite, and your digestion is poor; your sleep broken, and you get no rest.

Little annoyances seem great mountains of trouble, and you are blue, melancholy and given over to gloomy forebodings.

This means low vitality—exhausted brain nerves.

For this condition Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is a specific; it is a food for the nerves. It builds up the nervous system, and restores lost energy. Try it to-day and see if your sleep is not sound and refreshing, and the morrow brighter and more hopeful.

"I am glad to announce that I have recovered my health as far as my advanced age will permit, as I am 82 years old. My case was very bad; my nerves were all shattered. I suffered much pain and coldness; was so weak and felt so sad and lonely, and heart-broken. When I commenced taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, I was completely restored. I have taken the Restorative Nervine, Heart Cure and Nerve and Liver Pills, and they cured me."

TWO CARNIVALS

IS WHAT PADUCAH WILL HAVE NEXT SPRING FROM INDICATIONS.

Committee of Central Labor Union Recommends and It Is Ratified.

The committee appointed several days ago by Central Labor Union to investigate the advisability of holding a carnival or street fair in Paducah next spring under the auspices of Central Labor Union, last night reported in favor of giving a street fair, and Central Labor Union concurred in the recommendation, which means that the Labor Carnival will be held.

The members of the committee appointed to investigate the feasibility of the carnival were Messrs. R. M. Miles, of the leatherworkers; Mr. G. W. Walters, of the typographical union; Mr. George Hannon, of the tinners; and Mr. Lou Crandall, of the carpenters. Mr. Miles was chairman and Mr. Hannon secretary, and they fully investigated the matter.

The city legislative bodies readily offered the usual privileges accorded carnivals, and the promoters expect to have a good entertainment.

Central Labor Union last night made the committee whose report it adopted a permanent executive committee for the carnival, and authorized it to perfect arrangements. It is likely that little will be done towards this end, however, until after the first of the year.

The labor unions will have a street fair, the second ever given in Paducah. The one given two years ago was a success despite the fact that there was rain nearly every day.

Saved His Life.

J. W. Davenport, Wingo, Ky., writes, June 14, 1902: "I want to tell you I believe Ballard's Snow Liniment saved my life. I was under the treatment of two doctors and they told me one of my lungs was badly affected. I also had a lump on my side. I don't think that I could have lived over two months longer. I was induced by a friend to try Ballard's Snow Liniment. The first application gave me great relief; two fifty cent bottles cured me sound and well."

It is a wonderful medicine and I recommend it to suffering humanity. Sold by Alvey & List.

PRISONER SANG

While Her Confederates Dug the Walls of Murphysboro Prison.

Murphysboro Ill., Oct. 6.—Mary Edwards, Emma Bell and Marie Montell, prisoners in the Jackson county jail, at this place, escaped from the prison. While Mary Edwards sang strains of the latest popular songs during the day for several days past, her cellmates, Marie Montell and Emma Bell, diligently dug mortar from brick which held in place the bars about their window. When Deputy Sheriff Sylvester Hanson took them their breakfast this morning, he discovered that they had escaped.

The three women had been convicted of burglary and larceny, and were awaiting sentence from Judge Butler, who is holding circuit court. For several days the Edwards woman would hold the attention of the sheriff and other officials and citizens from a side window with her singing, and while she was doing this the other women were making their way to liberty.

Whenever the cough troubles her, two or three doses stops the cough, and she is able to be up and well." 25c, 50c and $1.

The Best Doctor.

Rev. B. C. Horton, Sulphur Springs, Tex., writes, July 19, 1902: "I have used in my family Ballard's Snow Liniment and Horehound Syrup, and they have proved certainly satisfactory. The liniment is the best we have ever used for headache and pains. The cough syrup has been our doctor for the last eight years."

THE "CADET CLASS" IS NOW ORGANIZED

It is a New Feature of Local Public School Work.

The Object Is to Have Pupils At All Time Capable of Teaching—Teachers' Meeting Today.

OTHER NEWS OF THE SCHOOLS

There is a special branch of course of instruction being conducted in the local high school which will be of great benefit to teachers, pupils and the school authorities alike. This is what is known as the "Cadet Class," organized for the purpose of training and bringing out teachers from the ranks of the graduating class, and was started this year.

There are eight members of this class and everyone is putting forth his or her most earnest efforts to outdo the other. This class is provided for by the statutes and is under the direction of Supt. C. M. Leib.

"Last year we thought that there would be several graduates to enter this class, but the only one who did enter or desire to do so, had to be regularly employed as a teacher," Supt. Leib explained today. "This year, however, we are permitting pupils of the 12th grade, the graduating class, to take this course, and we have eight in the class. We make regular substitutes out of them when possible and in this way bring them directly in contact with the workings of the teacher. We expect them to go through the second course of the class work next year, after graduation, and after that they will be prepared to enter the schools, that is if they have successfully done their work."

"In this way we can readily and without mistake pick those pupils who will make teachers, and will be in a position to know the material we are picking from. This is a means adopted in other cities where successful schools are conducted, to secure an efficient corps of teachers."

Heretofore pupils take a post-graduate course in some school and then take the examinations and secure a certificate. The authorities know little personally about their abilities as a teacher, but by the Cadet Class method, this disadvantage will be done away with, and the authorities will know exactly what they are getting in the teaching line when one of the Cadet Class is given a position in the schools.

Next year a four study class will be maintained, the pupils of this year's class being compelled to take this course if they desire to fit themselves for teaching. Supt. Leib is pleased with the showing made so far and with the interest taken in this work.

The Cadet Class will ultimately develop into a regularly established normal school for the training of teachers, and will mean one more accomplishment towards progress and perfection for the local schools.

This afternoon the teachers will hand in their monthly reports to Supt. Leib, the first of the term. The attendance has been remarkably good notwithstanding the scarlet fever scare and other matters which had an effect on the attendance. In all cases the primary grades are the ones affected, and on account of the crowded conditions in the primary rooms, the falling off of attendance comes in handy, giving the teachers better opportunity to give the most beneficial instruction.

The uniforms for the High school foot ball team will be bought by the boys of the school by a collection. The football will be donated by Profs. Payne and Woodbury and Mr. R. D. Clements. The boys are working hard perfecting a scientific code of signals and expect to make a better showing this than last year.

THE MASONS

TAKE AN INTEREST IN RESTORING THE HENRY CLAY STATUE.

Will Ask Grand Lodge to Lend Its Influence—Clay Once Master of Lexington Lodge.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 6.—At a meeting of the Lexington lodge No. 1, of Masons, held here it was decided to take steps to interest the Masonic body of the state in an effort to restore the head of the mutilated monument of Henry Clay in the cemetery here. Henry Clay once presided as master over this lodge. A committee composed of Worshipful Master J. Clay Hunt, Past Master J. W. Lancaster, John T. Kincaid and John S. Cramer was appointed to present a resolution to the grand lodge of Kentucky, which meets in Louisville this month, asking that the grand lodge lend its influence to induce the next legislature to make the necessary appropriation to repair the monument.

Prof. Newman Curtis, of Washington, who is visiting in this county, was a visitor to the lodge last night, and read a letter which he had received from Arnold Gregory, of Albion, N. Y., asking if the monument was for sale. If it could be purchased he proposed to move it to a site beside that of Gen. U. S. Grant, on the Hudson river, and remount it with a bronze statue.

PARTIAL VICTORY

For Both Sides in Smithland Back Tax Cases.

The back tax suits against the Ayer & Lord Tie company, Holcomb-Lobb Tie company, Moss Tie company, Standard Tie company, Pillsbury-Watkins Tie company and the Bates & Watkins Construction company for back taxes were finished yesterday afternoon at Smithland and this morning the county judge decided that the companies had several thousand dollars worth of property in that county subject to taxation but the amount has not been figured up.

Sheriff Bush filed the suits for the county, and asks for taxes against the tie companies for five years and the Bates & Watkins Construction company for two years. The tie companies he asked to be assessed at $265,000 each, and the construction company at $500,000.

A supersedeas was asked and the cases will now go to the circuit court for trial. The trials just finished were to find out the amount of property the defendants had in Livingston county.

Attorney C. C. Grassham represented the defendants.
